Disclaimer:

When-to-fight, LLC's program of martial arts and conditioning is a physically demanding exercise routine. Our classes are tailored to match the representative abilities of the grouped students (i.e. youth classes are less strenuous than adult classes.) Students who do not feel they are up to performing individual exercises or drills may "bow out" of that exercise by notifying the instructor and removing themselves from the floor (to sit silently at the edge of the room). Repeated avoidance of drills and exercises will adversely affect a student's opportunity to advance.

Many of our drills involve physical contact between students and other class members or instructors; this contact is performed in a controlled manner, however, there is always a chance of injury. Students and/or their parent/guardians agree to hold When-to-fight, LLC harmless in the event such an injury should occur.

A list of Dojo Rules and Etiquette and student Code of Conduct are provided. All students are expected to know and adhere to these rules. At the discretion of our instructors, anyone caught violating these Rules or the Code of Conduct is subject to disciplinary actions, up to and including being expelled from the program. (Disciplinary actions will vary depending upon the nature and severity of the violation.)

I, _____ (student) understand the above disclaimer and agree to abide by all rules, etiquette and Code of Conduct. I further understand that participating in this activity may result in injury and agree to hold When-to-fight, LLC its Instructors and management harmless in the event of such injury.

Dojo Rules and Etiquette

To keep things safe and orderly, our dojo has a set of rules that are rather simple to abide by. They are as follows:

- Bow before entering and leaving the dojo
- Address the instructor as Sensei (teacher)
- Address higher ranking students as Sempai
- Please arrive on time and dressed for class
- If you arrive late to class, kneel just inside the door and wait until permitted to enter by the instructor
- Students are not to arrive any earlier than 15 minutes before class
- Please be quiet while class is in session
- Smoking is prohibited
- No profanity accepted
- No jewelry while in class
- No sparring without supervision
- No running/horseplay
- Wear a clean gi (uniform)
- Finger and toe nails are to be short and clean.
- Sparring rules: light contact to body, NO contact to head, throat, back or groin area
- Parents/Guardians are responsible for the supervision of their children prior to class
- The studio will not be responsible for any children remaining after their class time is over. The studio will not be held responsible for any student remaining in the parking lot after the completion of their class
- All injuries should be reported to the studio immediately
- Parents/Guardians should try to have their children use the restroom prior to class
- All small children who are not students must be accompanied by an adult
- Make all payments on time

Code of Conduct

In order to take classes at the dojo, students must have a minimum level of self-control and focus. Students must be able to take simple directions and focus on one task for at least a few minutes at a time.

- The goal in the study of the martial arts is not to harm, but to defend one-self when attacked.
- HONESTY, COURTESY, RESPECT, DISCIPLINE, LOYALTY and COURAGE are the motivating values of this school and are the expected characteristics of all of our students.
- Understand that the skills, techniques and methods you learn here are for self-DEFENSE only. Using the things you learn here in an aggressive or offensive manner are grounds for dismissal from the club.
- No horseplay allowed at any time.
- The purpose of our training is to develop:
 - Self-confidence
 - Self-respect
 - Self-discipline
 - Self-esteem
 - Self-defense
- Never teach techniques or conduct demonstrations without prior consent.
- Swearing, foul or perverse language is not acceptable. Courtesy means showing respect for the minds and hearts of your fellow students, and no degrading language will be tolerated. This includes swearing, taunting, and insults of any kind.
- Your rank signifies more than just where you stand; it indicates your level of responsibility.
- All students shall show higher ranking students the respect their rank deserves.
- It is an honor to be asked to help another student, when asked, do it with pride
- A student of martial arts should have courage. Courage as defined by the American Heritage Dictionary: "The quality of mind that enables one to face danger with confidence, resolution, and a firm control of oneself."
